Hon. Geraldine Ferraro
House of Representatives
Washington D. C.

Dear Mrs. Ferraro,

It is with a burst of pride and joy that I write this letter of congratulations from Rome, Italy, where I am now for a holiday visit.

I have just read in the International Herald Tribune (Friday, July 13, 84) that you have been chosen as ~~winning~~ <sup>winning</sup> ~~man~~ <sup>man</sup> for Walter F. Mondale. In addition to the obvious, usual reasons for rejoicing for such an exciting choice, there is also a sense of personal identification that urges me to write.

Hopefully, you will not consider it improper if I mention that the similarity of your background (from your childhood years to public school teaching and attendance at Fordham University), offers a symbolic direction to my life. Surely, many other young women will be inspired to continue working and believing in our American system, which allows a person to move according to his/her efforts and qualifications.

When I return to the U.S., at the end of August, I plan to become actively involved in seeing that the likely presidential ticket of the Democratic Party has the support it deserves, in my community.

Undoubtedly, your experience, leadership and energy will bring the Democratic Party victory.

In the meanwhile, please accept my special wishes and prayers for your continued success.

Sincerely Yours,

(Mrs.)

Bronxville, New York 10708

[Excuse the form of this letter; it is being written while getting ready to leave Rome.]
